Congratulations! Today is your day. You're off to Great Places! You're off and away!

You have brains in your head.
You have feet in your shoes.
You can steer yourself in any direction you choose.
You're on your own. And you know what you know.
And you are the guy who'll decide where to go.

You'll get mixed up of course.
as you already know.
You'll get mixed up
with many strange birds as you go.
So be sure when you step.
Step with care and great tact and remember that Life's a Great Balancing Act.
Never forget to be dexterous and deft.
And never mix up your right foot with your left.

And you will succeed Yes! You will, indeed! (98 and ¾ percent guaranteed.)

So . . .
be Your name Buxbaum or Bixby or Bray or Mordecai Ali Van Allen O'shea, you're off to great places!
Today is your day!
Your mountain is waiting.
So . . . . get on your way!

NORWELL HIGH SCHOOL SOUTH ST. NORWELL, MA 02061 WITH PLEASURE, THE CLASS OF 1993 WOULD LIKE TO DEDICATE THIS YEARBOOK TO:

DR. ANTHONY N. BAHROS

PRINCIPAL AT NORWELL HIGH SCHOOL 1967-1993

Dr. Anthony N. Bahros has graciously served as principal of Norwell High School since 1967. Dr. Bahros, a man of dedication, leadership, ideals, and respect for faculty and students, has watched the Norwell school system grow. He was most instrumental in the planning and construction of Norwell High School as we know it today. Once semi-retired, Dr. Bahros will be spending time with his family, trout fishing, cooking, and keeping active in education by teaching a sociology course at Massasoit Community College. Looking back on his time spent at Norwell High School, Dr. Bahros said, "Believe it or not, I would not trade one day." He leaves his successor with an important message, "Listen to the faculty and students. They always speak the truth."

Dr. Bahros, Good Luck in all your future endeavors. Thanks for a great twenty-five years. We'll miss you!

WHERE WILL WE BE

THE YEAR IS 2013, AND THE CLASS OF 1993 FROM NORWELL HIGH SCHOOL IS SCATTERED THROUGHOUT THE EMPLOYMENT CIRCUIT . . .

In the business world, the new J. Crew store that was recently opened on Matt Calvert Avenue by business entrepreneurs Vanessa Hunt and Deb Elliot is being sued by up-and-coming lawyer Melissa Glynn for the over-bodily exposure of three of their models, Mike Rahman, Mike Landers, and Russ Kazorek, in an advertisement placed together by Ann Glynn and Emily Kavadias. The defense lawyer, Jay McNamara, has brought up the point noted by their finance accountant Nicole Napoli, that the case has increase the revenue for J. Crew's competition, The Gap, owned by Pam Naymie and modeled for by Cathy Burgio, Deb McClelland and Brian Fogarty. The case would have been heard last Monday by the three person panel of judges, consisting of Dan Castellano, Doug Gordon and Alison Cashin, until the prosecution pointed out that the well-known sportscaster Brett Thompson, a member of the jury, had had a previous encounter with the defense, Vanessa Hunt. This required that another citizen step into his seat, and after a comprehensive search by computer expert Jeff Carson, the only acceptable replacement was Merri Laban, in the Peace Corps in Peru, who flew home, encouraged by the moral support of fellow Corps member Missy McGowan.

Meanwhile, amid the confusion in the courtroom, three stories down on the sidewalk Police Chief Mike Cooper arrested Rob Carroll for shooting three student nurses, Amanda Opdyke, Kellie Glynn and Chad Mickey, off the Bell tower constructed by architect Sarah Eaves, after hearing the screams of bystander witnesses Kim Frawley, Heather Lake and Alicia Newton. The arrested man was shipped immediately to Moses and Shiers mental hospital where he underwent treatment by psychology specialists Lisa Mueller and Amy Veneto, who immediately diagnosed his problem as needing a severe brain operation. The only doctors capable of the task were the team of Norris and Hogan. The surgery was successful for the convicted man, but the state of the student nurses was dire; they would need intense physical therapy from specialists Ally Thomson, Kara Brickman, Jen Pantano, Greg Meyer and Amanda Perfetti.

Along with the sports write-up by Nicky D'Alessandro about the Wimbledon championship of Jon Ducey and the women's basketball record set by Merra Gratto, reporter Beth Farry recorded the courtroom/shooting ordeal in the newspaper the next day. It was also discussed by talk show host Jamie O'Keefe and his guest star Kerri Depari, gossip expert who always has the inside story. On a competing channel, Allison Hughes' talk show feature a special with guests sex therapists Ted O'Neill and Matt Mohan, analyzing the lives of couples Nancy Spring and Matt Hetzel, and Herb Cole and Laura Stankewicz. Jill Constantino was also there to answer any questions of the detrimental effects on their children.

On Liz McCue's nightly radio show, D.J. Melissa Holster mentioned the arrest of animal rights activist Sara Forest for rescuing and freeing the mascot of Jamie Schleicher's professional football team, which is currently on the endangered species list. She also commented on a question from listener Terence O'Neill about the state of the nation's economy. The unemployment rate has risen, ranging from the beaches overflowing with suntanned bums Jeanne Doherty, Jen Rossetti, Jim Powers and Claudia Bernardi, to the mountain slopes being overcrowded with ski bums Peter Trojano, Lauren Paulson, Colin McDevitt, and Adam Hawk. Everywhere people are screaming for work, including starving artist Keith Newman and the situation has gotten so bad that some Norwellians, including Brett Sesnewicz, Dan Perkins, and Steve O'Keefe, have become forest rangers in Cuba.

Leading from this connection with Cuba, Jan Flasche arrived in the United States this week to travel with the Red Sox, competing with pitcher Greg Matchett, designated hitter Rob Manning and catcher Ana Sheehan, the first woman ever to play on a male baseball team. Led by the enthusiastic sportscasting of duo Jeff Manning and Greg O'Donnell, the Boston team was on a winning streak until that fateful evening when they visited the much acclaimed restaurant owned by Nicky Silvia. Chef Angelo Logrippo was in cahoots with McDonald's owners Janet Mahoney and Chris Gallagher, and they poisoned the entire team, along with stunt double Garrett Gennelly and his side-kick actor Andy Kuhn. Killed in the poisoning was PTA president Rita Mohr.

After the sad death of this much loved woman, teachers Diana Manthorne, Lisa Durica, Sue Micciantuono and Kim Holway arranged for the dedication of a tree in her memory, placed by landscapers Doug Scott, Matt Humberd and Bryan Bailey. Since Elvis was her favorite singer, impersonator Ben Messenger sang "Love Me Tender" with backup singer Monique Harris, accompanied by Nicole Loguercio on piano, Steve Malm on guitar and Scott Garland on trombone.

Destroyed by the loss, Tim Devin remained in his small white house with his dog, Sparkey. He watched on T.V. only reruns of a soap opera starring Aaron Benoy, Kerri Griffin, Nora Lambert and Joy Corwin, and a new show called "Sports-Star Search", hosted by Lorraine Reynolds, which features skating by Danielle Cheverie and Ryan Williams, dancing by Cheri Finlayson and Michelle Melanson, and sumo wrestling competition between Adam "House" Keene and Anthony Maccaro.

Also in the news, a near disaster was prevented by the heroic actions of windsurfer Chris Sammartino, who passed by the shipwrecked Peter Condrick, threw him a rope and waved. Soon after, he passed a nearly deserted island, inhabited only by three people: Lee Alex on one side, who wanted nothing to do with Norwell and lived in his own world, Brian Fairbank in the middle of the island selling snake chips to no one, and Ed Vacha on the other side, who can't remember what he did yesterday.

On May 15, 1992, Norwell High School had its annual Junior-Senior Prom at Pembroke Country Club. The Prom was a wonderful success and the night was topped off with the crowning of Prom King Matt Lyons and Prom Queen Amanda Opdyke. The Prom court was Vanessa Hunt and Merti Laban.

A MAN FOR ALL SEASONS

Student-directed by Matthew Aigen, 1992's "A Man For All Seasons" required dedication and commitment from both the students and director, Carol Beal. Unlike most spring plays, which are light and upbeat, "A Man For All Seasons" was an intellectual play which challenged the minds of all those involved and those who attended the performances. Once again, the N.H.S. Drama Club was a success.
